COMMEMORATIVE EDITION

HONORING CAMDEN HIGH SCHOOL IN ITS 25TH YEAR

CAMPBELL UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT —
SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF: ELAINE ABE

Our days at Camden are to be cherished,
For these are the days that were.

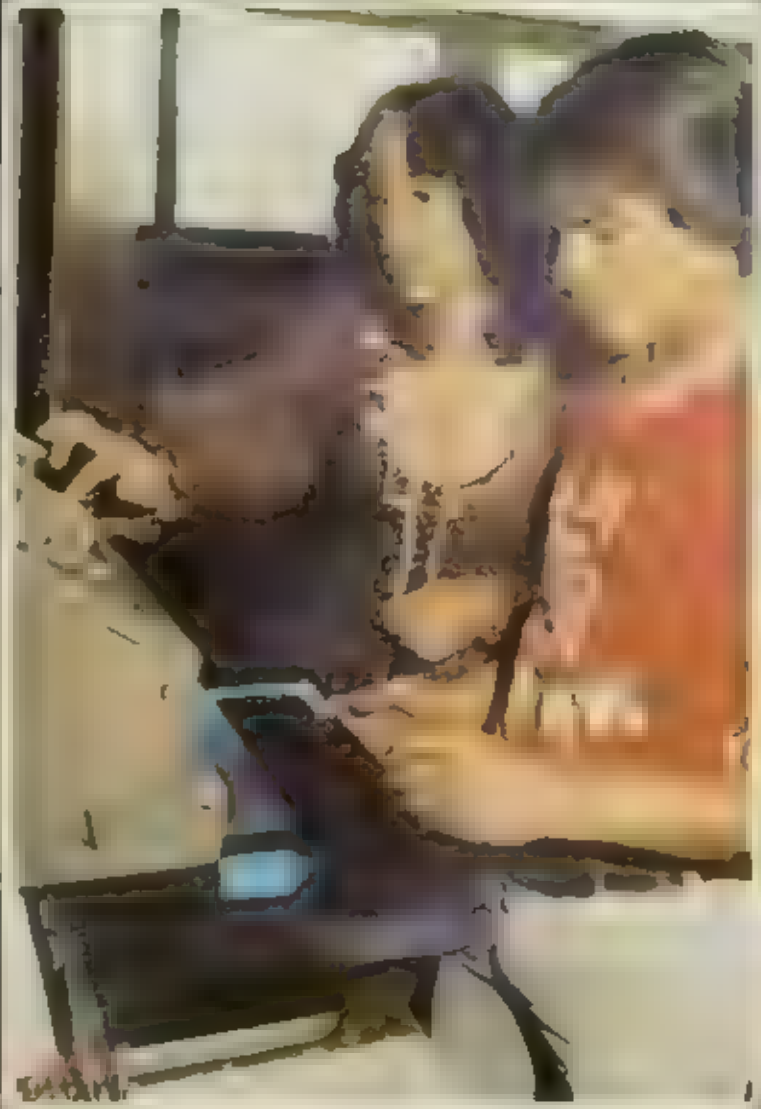

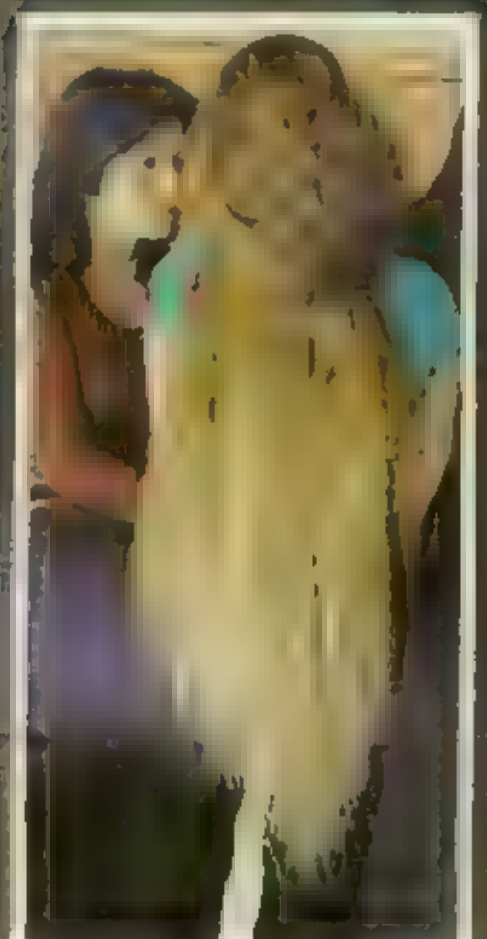

The seasons at Camden were everchanging,
Yet have remained springtime in memory.

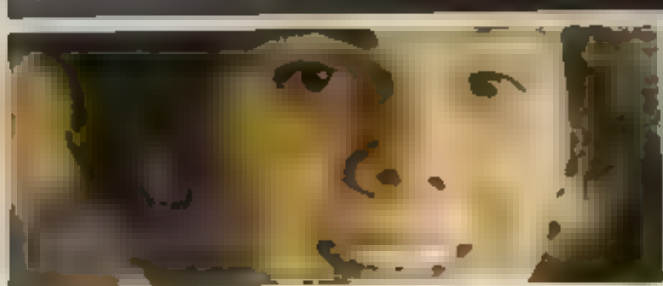

Reminiscing
In the autumn or winter of our journey,

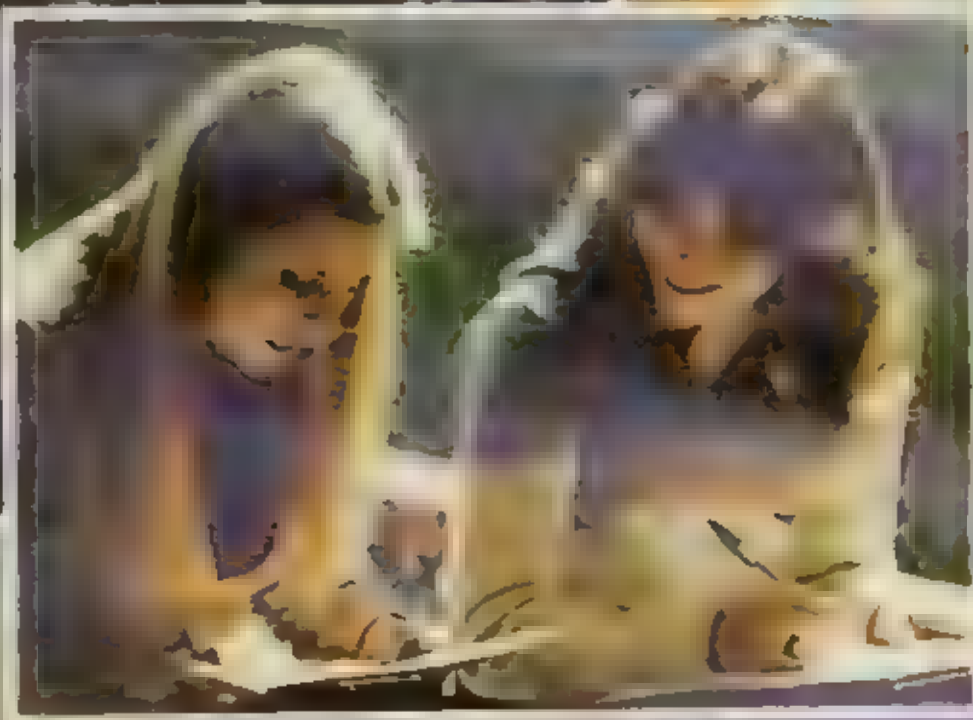

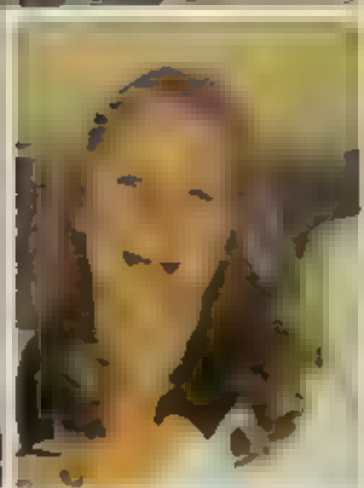

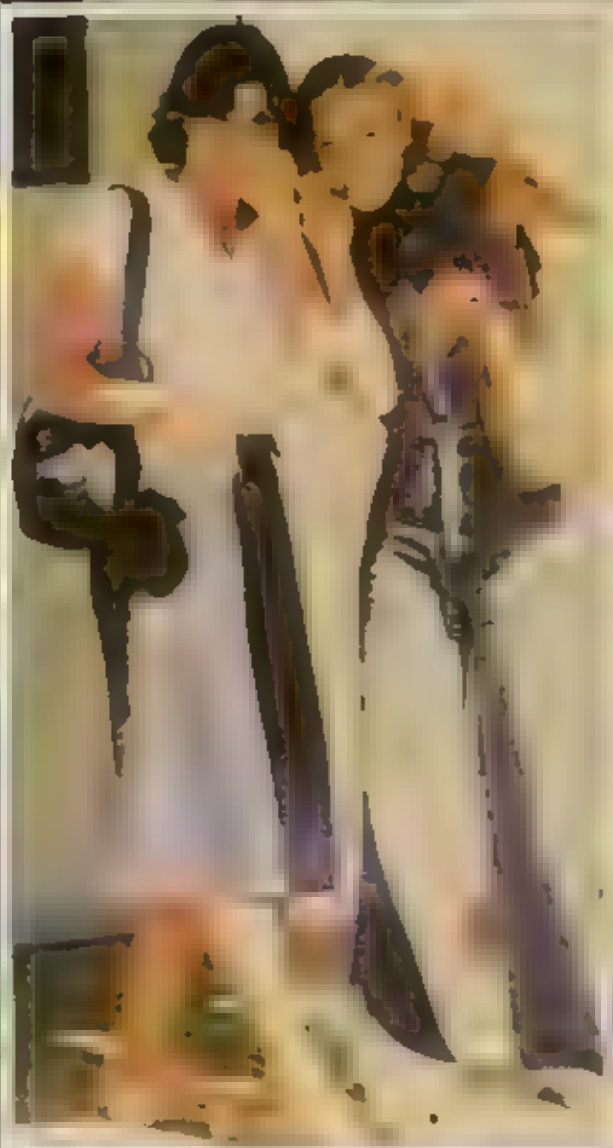

We may forget,

The names and faces may blur into a confusion of details.

But upon opening this book of memories,
The blur will focus.

The Mission of Camden in 1890

1890

11. 1. 1890

Looking back on all we've been through,
Isn't it amazing how much we've learned,
Yet how very much more there is to learn?

An aerial photograph of the Camden High School campus. The main building is a large, light-colored structure with a grid-like roof pattern. To the left is a swimming pool. To the right is a parking lot with several cars. The surrounding area includes trees and other buildings.

MEMINI 1980

is dedicated to all of those who have made
Camden High School
a special place.

Through the years

In The Beginning: Camden's First Year

The graduates pictured above represent the first graduating class from Camden High School, the Class of 1958. Camden first opened on September 19, 1955, to 658 freshman and sophomore students. Most of Camden as we see it today was built in the fall of 1955. The cafeteria, library, gymnasium, basketball and tennis courts, and swimming pool were constructed later.

Many of the teaching staff at Campbell High School were transferred to the new Camden High School campus. Among them were Dean Chamberlin, Camden's first principal (later Mr. Jones), and Jeannene Lakrop, present Camden's first teacher.

In addition to Mr. Jones and Mr. Lakrop, Irving Moore and Wilson Crosby also joined the new Camden

High teaching staff, making them the foursome that would continue to teach through Camden's 25 years.

Camden's first Student Council was elected while the students were still a part of Campbell High School. Through the use of committees, the council chose purple and gold for Camden's colors, the cougar as its mascot, "Cougar's Tales" as the title for the newspaper, and "Memirs" as the name for Camden's yearbook.

In "Cougar's Tales" students were encouraged to participate and cooperate to make Camden's first year successful. Student body cards (through which money could be received) were a real bargain for a mere $3.00.

Camden has grown and changed as we have,

Prospective swimmers were told that although Camden had no swimming pool, there would definitely be a team come the spring season. Team members would take the bus to Campbell High School for their weekly work-outs.

Camden students danced through Platter Line, a game made up of popular songs such as "The Thing" and "Milk and Honey" themes.

Back in 1955, the appearance of a freshman was the same as it is now. Coach Morgan's "First Day of a Freshman" in which the nervous and excited freshman were in all the wrong classrooms.

Hot plate lunches with pineapples were sold in the cafeteria for 25¢. Students bringing their lunches could buy milk for 5¢. Hamburgers, hot dogs, sandwiches and assorted junk food were sold in the Snack Bar while milkshakes, sundaes, ice cream and fruit bars could be bought at the school. A program involving open-campus lunch also existed, but Cambrian Park merchants were pleased with the improvements shown as the student body corrected its erring members.

Instead of dancing in social dancing as a P.E. requirement, students were required to dance since the gym was not yet constructed.

In 1955-1956, the Purple Professors, a team of 40 students, was coached by Coach Morgan. The team was known for its purple and white uniforms and its success in the state championships.

The 1955-1956 football team had 51 members. Their first workout to begin with was calisthenics, as the new turf of the football field was only three weeks old. Coach Junior Morgan's greatest concern was finding a pair of size 14 shoes (not made for a 13-year-old, 158-lb. Mel Profit).

1955-1956. It was a good year. 1979-1980. It sure was, too!

Leaving us only with what we have,
And what we have yet to become.

THANK YOU

This is to all of you
To all the people I have known, though true there have been enemies, I know there will be many more
But those enemies have taught me what a real friend is

To you who have loved me and to those I have still to love
I wish you the warmth and kindness the world has shown to me
And to those who are needy and hungry for they have shown me how lucky I am to have food to eat and people who care

Thanks to those who have listened to my problems, and in return, brought their problems to me. They have made me wiser
And to those who have taught me, for you have opened doors, and I have learned that I may teach with the knowledge you have given me

To those people who have rushed through life for they have shown me how precious life really is

So I say thanks to all of you For by giving me your wisdom, your laughter, your tears, and your love, I have become a better person

I have time to grow and I will still make mistakes

I hope you have that time to

For none of us is perfect, but together we can come close

THAT SPECIAL PLACE

I can remember all the things we shared
Walks by the ocean and the dreams that we had
I can remember what you gave to me
You gave me courage when you gave me love

Is there a place where our paths will part?
And is there a time to say good-bye to you?
Well, if there is, you will always have
That special place in my heart

Do you remember the sunsets that we shared?
Applauding the maker who painted every cloud?
Do you remember the silent times we shared?
We could say nothing because our love said everything
I guess what I'm saying with a lot of memories,
Is how much I love you and how I always will

For there is a place where our paths will part
And there is a time to say good-bye
I want you to know, that you will always have
That special place in my heart

THE DREAMERS

You've lived your life in dreams, and endless empty nights
You know it's not reality, but somehow you can't realize
You talk it over with friends, and you all seem to agree
That dreams are just for dreamers, and you you're none of the
But deep inside your soul, you feel as though you're trapped
There's something deep down in there, that just won't give up
You just want to set it free, the feeling that won't be
At times you think you've done just that, but it always seem to come back You're waiting for your chance, to impress the world at best
And maybe your time will come in life, but don't hold on to the past
Your future happiness is there within your grasp

Su Tramontana

A metamorphosis is taking place
Impalpably, intangibly
Existent
We can no more see ourselves
Than the butterfly can
Enjoying youthful abandonment and carefree actions
Learning, socializing, maturing
We spend our days
in preparation for the unknown
We are forming our wings
In anticipation of the day of liberation
Camden High School is our cocoon
A bright, golden chrysalis
To be necessarily discarded
Yet cherished in memory forever
We will soon be flying blithely away
From our comfortable security
To explore a vast and mystic world

Jackie Nakamura

MY WORLD

I'd like to give my world to you
 And make it free for all
 Then I'd buy the brightest star
 And make it very small
 Last I'd give you the ocean sea
 And all the treasures abound
 The sky so blue and sun so bright
 And everything I've found
 Your eyes so clear make my life shine
 And hold my heart within
 But so what . . . It doesn't matter
 I live my life to win

GOODBYE MISS HUNT

The hockey season ended
 The school closing nears
 We'll never forget the times we've had
 Throughout our high school years

We've lived a lot of good times
 But we've had the rough times too
 We could never have been champions
 Without our loyal coach, Sue

She drove us hard, and worked us long
 She made us rough and mean
 She shaped us like a razor,
 And made us look real keen

Although we tried her patience
 While making practice fun
 We paid the price if we goofed off
 And she would make us run

We thought those laps would kill us
 But we deserved every one
 We were in the best of shape
 Whenever practice was done

Pulling shorts, pulling hair
 Pulling the goal cages down
 We sure did have a blast
 Burning the "C's" in the ground

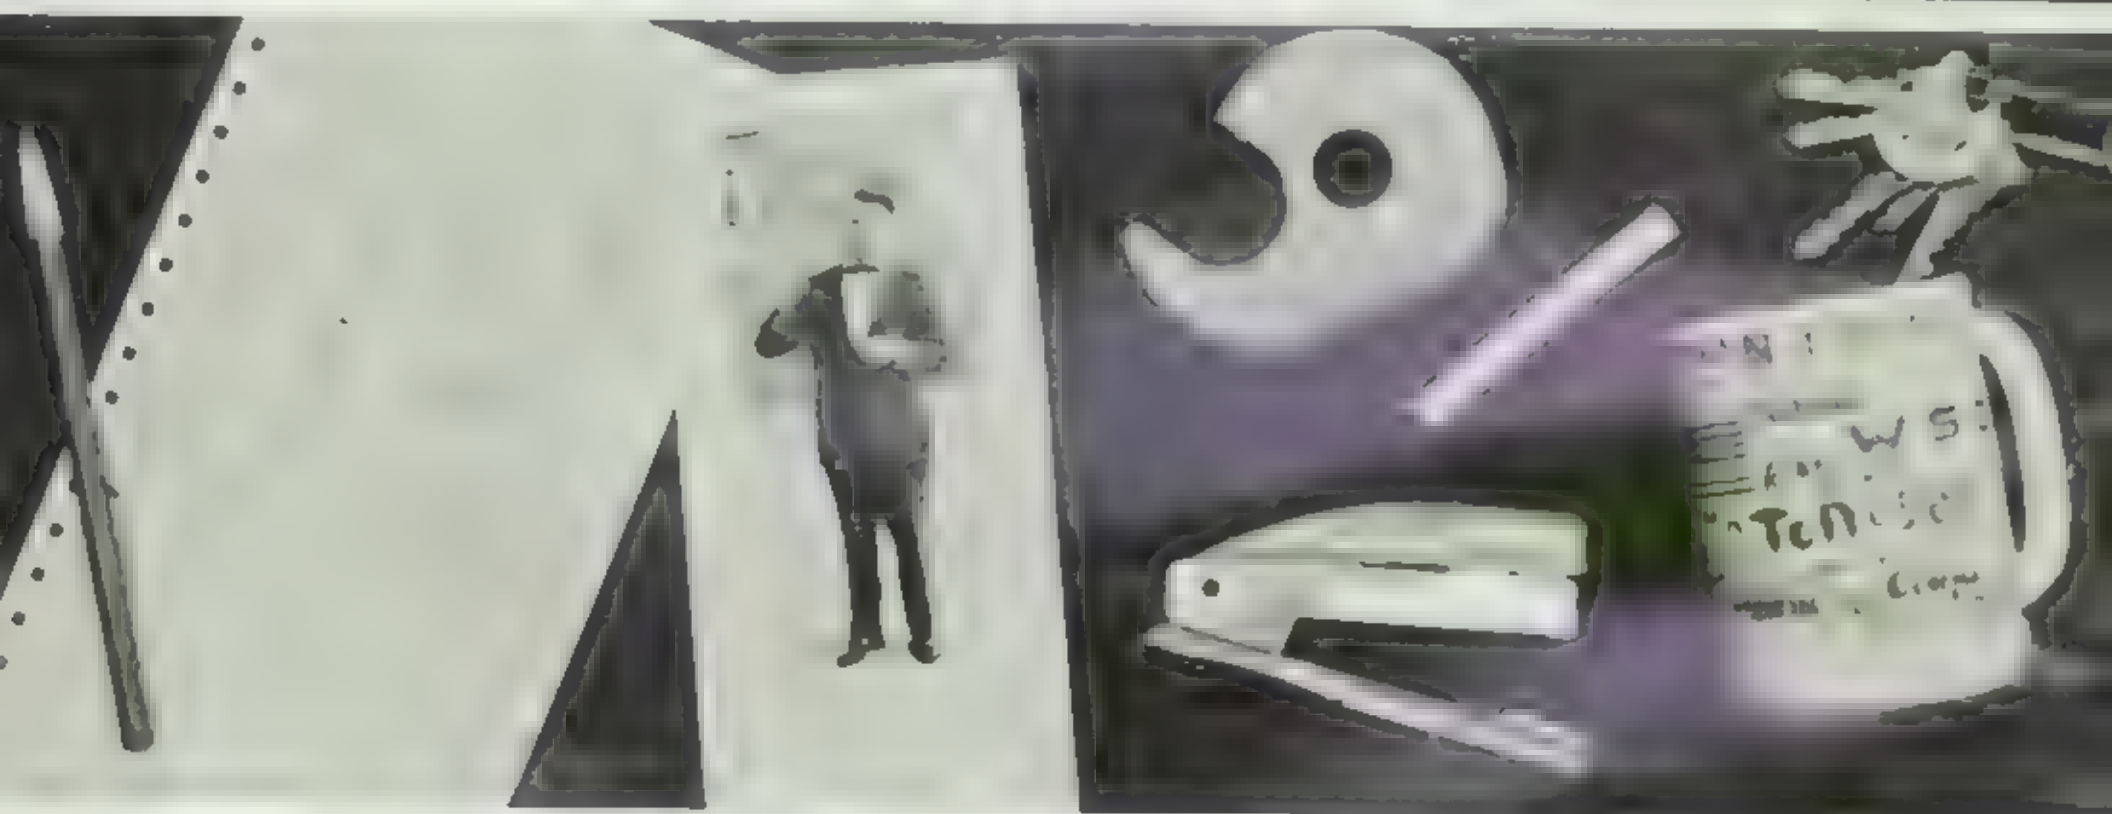

As time goes on and we look back
 If we're feeling down and blue
 We'll remember our hockey coach
 To Miss Hunt-We say-Thank You

As time goes on and we look back
 If we're feeling down and blue
 We'll remember our hockey coach
 To Miss Hunt-We say-Thank You

Dean Chamberlin

Dean Chamberlin, Principal 1955-1962

With the completion of this school year, a quarter of a century of educational experiences for high school students in the Cambrian Park area becomes history. Our campus became the hub of activities for high schoolers in this area when Camden first opened 25 years ago. If our hallways and classrooms could talk, what a flood of memories they could relate

As each of you leave this year you will carry with you a rich supply of memories, many of which have been captured in photographs throughout this 1980 edition of "Memini." This marks the twenty-fifth year that the "Memini" has been published by the students of Camden High School. During these years it became an integral part of the school's activities; a tradition as firmly established as the singing of our school song, our school colors, and our homecoming game

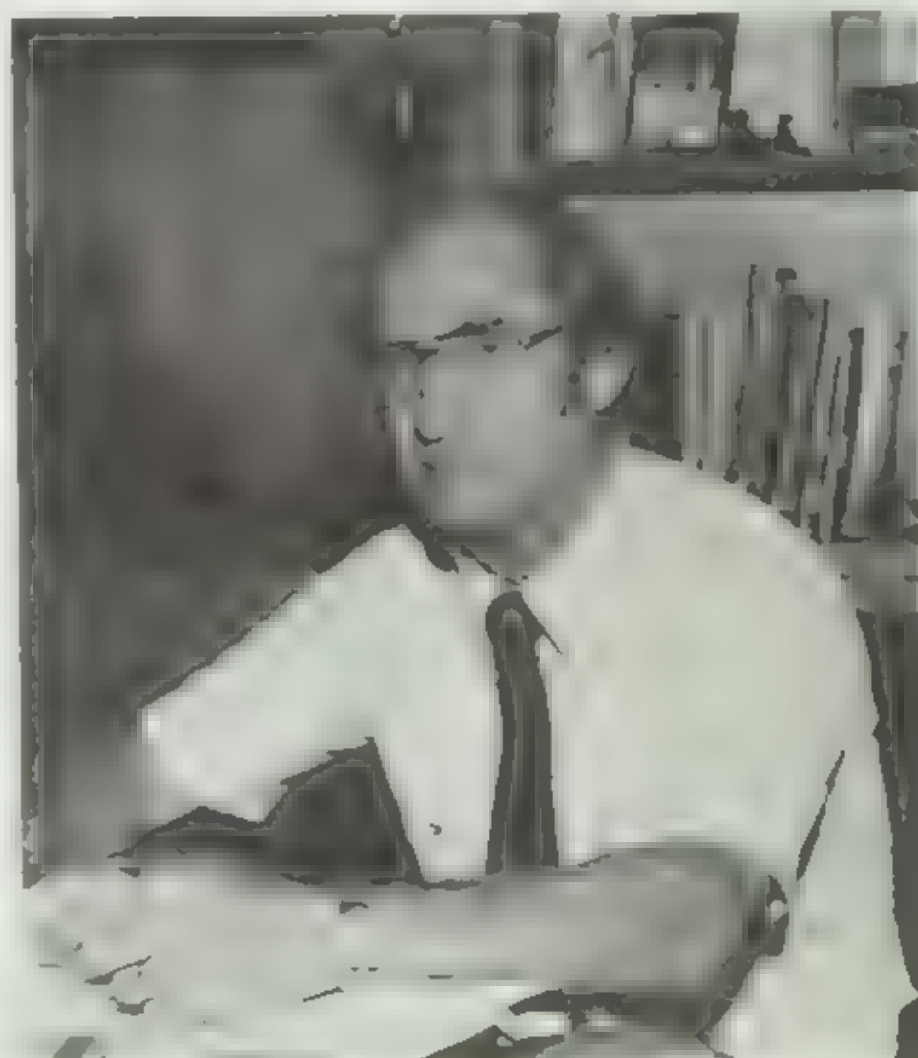

The years that I have been fortunate enough to serve Camden High School as Principal, I will always treasure as the most rewarding of my life. I would like to thank the host of students, parents and staff that have made the years so exceptional

It is my hope that when you reminisce through this book in the years to come, you will have experienced much of the success I take pleasure in wishing you now

CAMDEN'S FIRST PRINCIPAL

Camden High School was not quite completed in September of 1955 when 678 students and 29 staff members began its history. But these first classes made up in personal spirit and dedication what they sometimes lacked in physical accommodations. This tradition has continued over the years, and a splendid record of accomplishment has been the result. My association with these wonderful people at Camden has been one of the finest experiences in my life

A CENTURY OF CAMDEN TEACHING

Ms. Jeannene Lathrop, Mr. Irv Moore, Mrs. Vivian Jones, and Mr. Wilson Crosby all celebrated their silver anniversary of teaching at Camden this year.

"Too late! Yep — they were too late closing the doors at Camden because the Camden students have already made their mark in the world. Closing the doors will never end Camden because Camden will live on through our many students and graduates. Let the world hear you, Cougars!"

MS. JEANNENE LATHROP

"I prefer to think not of time spent at Camden but rather of time and energy invested. The returns have been many, and they continue."

MR. IRV MOORE

"The many hours spent here at Camden have been intriguing and stimulating to me. Observing young people reaching toward their highest potential is always exciting."

MRS. VIVIAN JONES

"Camden and I have grown older together, to the betterment of both, I hope. This campus is now and always has been a collection of individuals all contributing from their unique selves — we are all their students. The end is sad."

SPRING CLASS

I really enjoyed being Senior Class President. Although the first semester president was responsible for planning our senior activities, I had the opportunity to serve as class leader during the Senior Ball, Grad Night, and Senior Sneak.

We are proud of our accomplishments in our four years at Camden. Our enthusiasm showed during Spirit Week when we won the home decorating competition over freshmen, sophomore, junior, and senior years. We also have a super class academically. We will graduate with many outstanding students.

It's very special to be in the last graduating class of Camden, the Class of 1980. I'm particularly looking forward to our graduation in June. It's the most special and important event in our high school years." JACQUELINE BOWMAN '80

JACQUE BOWMAN (captain) '80

"Sports naturally builds confidence and skill but more than that—it builds an invaluable self-knowledge. You discover resources within and are constantly being surprised by your reactions to different situations. It may be corny, but sports builds character."
MARY PETERSEN '80

"We worked hard during practice and did our best in the games. At times our best wasn't good enough, but that just made us fight harder to win. Playing as a team is hard, but we did a pretty good job doing so."

"There's an old saying that goes, 'It doesn't matter if you win or lose, but it's how you play the game.' We didn't always win, but we always played a good game. You can't have a good team unless everyone gives 100% of herself. We had one hell of a good team." ANNETTE SNYDER, '80

"Camden High School will be remembered best by those who went here. We will remember our first high school dance, or for some, our first major food fight. We will carry fond memories of our best friends and the times we had together. Our schoolmates who provided the "rowdiest" year of Camden will also be remembered. To the very day until I die, I will always remember Camden High." SAM BARNETT '82

Camden Boosters Club

wish to take this time to thank all of the parents, faculty and students who have helped make the CAMDEN BOOSTERS CLUB the success it has been over the course of the past eleven years.

It started with the dream of a few people and will now end with the reality of a few hundred people.

We at Camden Boosters members wish to say "THANK YOU" for letting us serve you.

To the graduating class of 1980: Best of luck for all your tomorrows. To the graduating classes of 1981, 82, 83: Always remember the good times and good friends at Camden High, but look forward to new friends and good times wherever you go."

THANKS
MOM
AND DAD!!

Liberate yourself from heavy-duty housework!

You're too nice to spend the rest of your life hauling around an awkward vacuum sweeper!

Oh, we know. Big cleaning power means a big motor. Lots of weight and noise, too ...right? Wrong! NuTone's got a much better way. With a NuTone Central Cleaning System, the large motor hides away in the basement, garage, or utility room. No heavy motor to carry, and you hardly hear a sound!

All you do is snap in the hose at any convenient wall inlet and clean several rooms at a time!

Here's the best part! For really super cleaning power, NuTone has a power brush with beater bar. It gets out the most stubborn hidden dirt—even from shags.

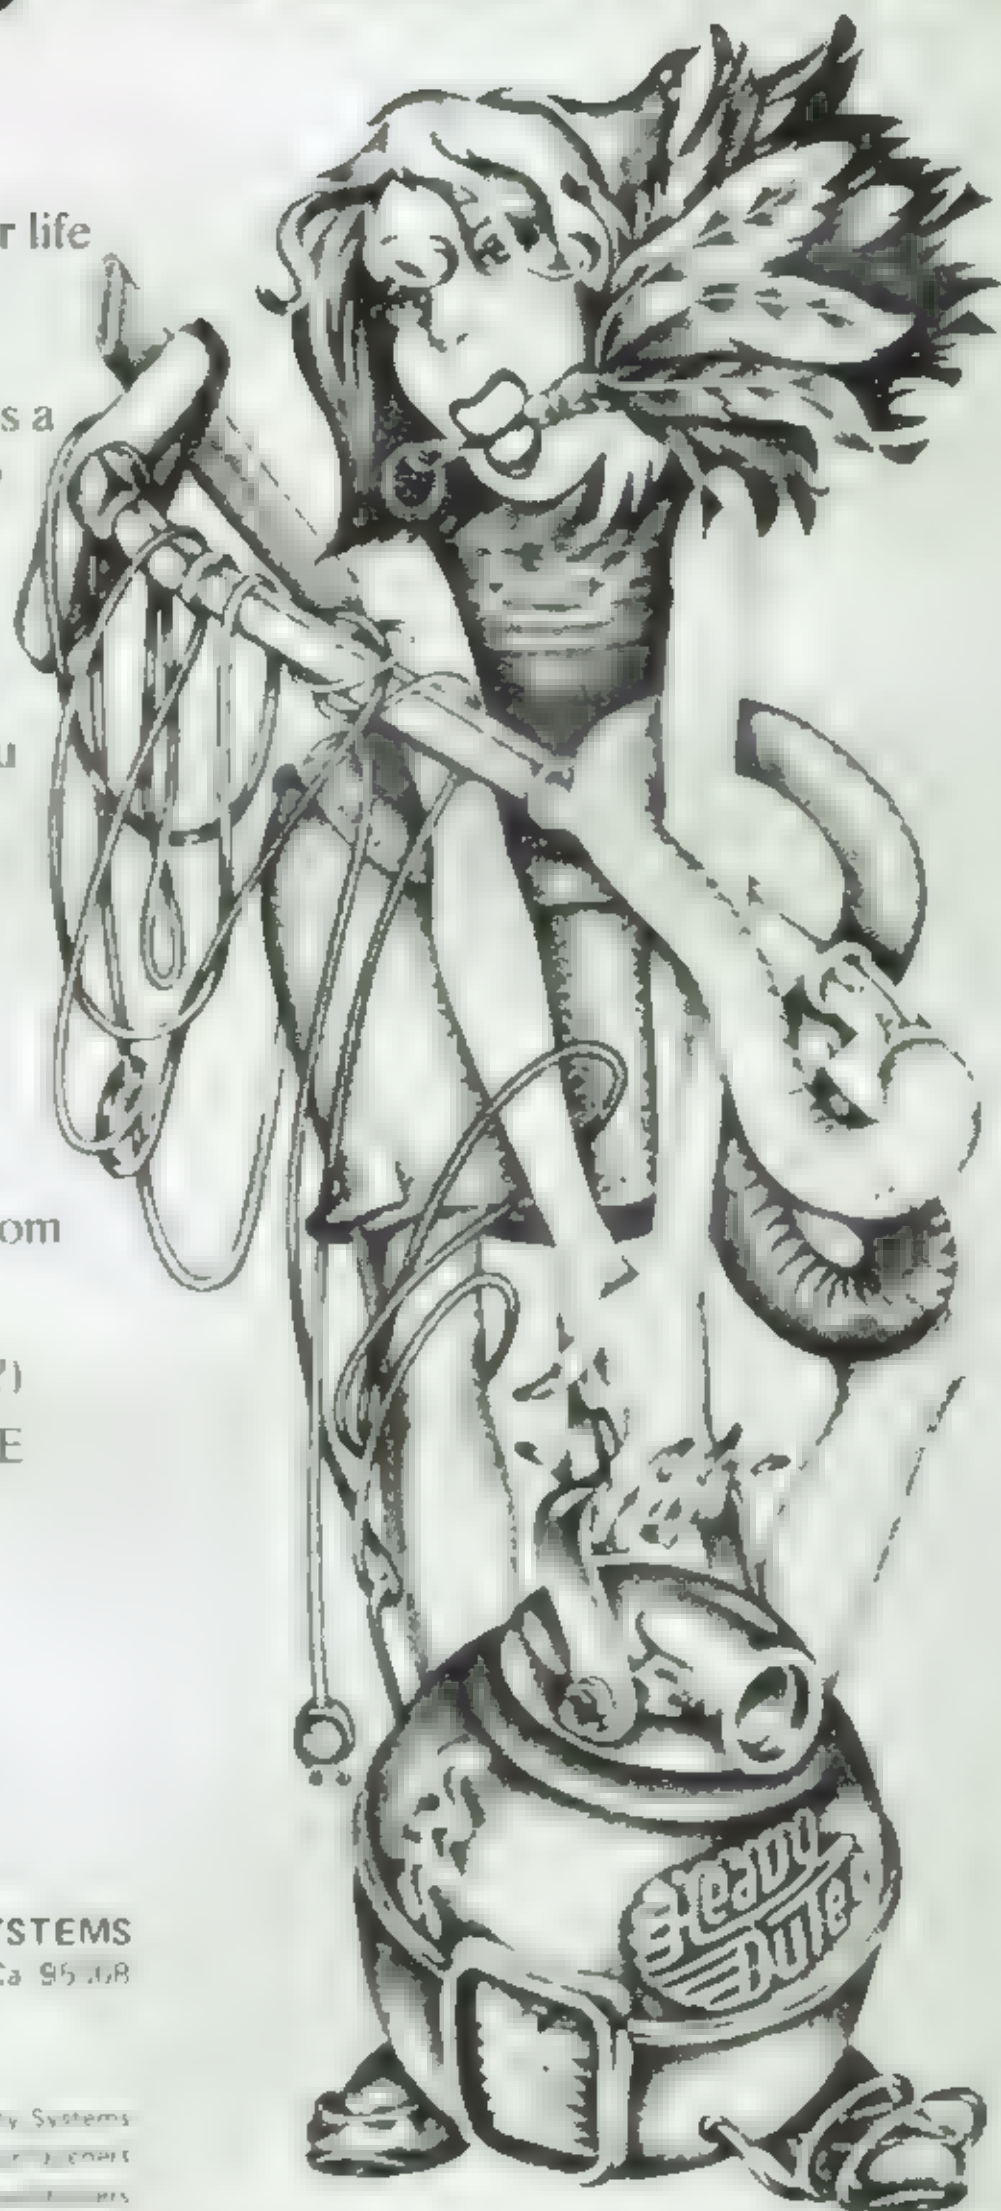

(Don't you deserve one?)

Call us today for a FREE installation estimate, backed by service.

"At Christmas time 1978, a young man from a South American country, as his brother before him, was spending a year as a foreign exchange student in the United States. His brother had spent the year with neighbors of mine and had returned home and had expounded upon the virtues of a wonderful year's experience at Camden High School.

The younger brother, spending his year at a school in the eastern part of the United States, made the trip to San Jose and anxiously awaited the chance to see the campus that his brother had so highly praised. He was taken on a tour of the campus, devoid of students, and saw no one other than a lone jogger running on the field. He remarked, 'I guess it must have been a really great school from all the things my brother said.'

After June, we ourselves who have shared a portion of Camden's twenty-five years will undoubtedly elicit a similar response when trying to convey our feelings about Camden to someone else. The experience is uniquely our own." IRV MOORE, FACULTY

"I really loved being a Camden Pep Club member. It was great being in the 'rowdy' part of the crowd and cheering for the Cougars. The Class of '72 takes its line bow to Camden High School

ASB Pres. Dave Roberts '65

"I have very fond memories of Camden High School and its faculty. I'm proud to have gone to school there and regret that my sister, Lisa, will not be able to graduate from Camden in 1982."

"Our dawn, Sequoia's sparkling gown of dew, Drawn from primeval fogs to germinate in coalescing streams, we grew
Alive and safe in journey new complete

What thought had we to give to arbor bough?
Our quatrain past of learning forms of be,
And lives, careers, our spirits were to rouse
To college, trades, 'to taste the high country.'

While old roots failed to find support to hold,
And lacking vital fogs the boughs did brown,
We sorrow now to find a place so cold
Where once lived continuity our own

But whisper of the tales of days of yore;
Glance once at faded photos of old friends,
And back will be the color and allure
Of unforgettable ways and means and ends

Forever once is forever always
Where else it dies, yet in the heart it stays

In Camden's concluding year, the 1980 Yearbook Staff agreed that the final Memini ought to include not only the people and activities of today, but everyone and everything, past and present, who had contributed to and made Camden High School a very special place. Camden's final Memini would be an especially cherished "scrapbook," filled with yesterday's and today's memories.

To achieve this combination of past and present, many of Camden's graduates (Classes of 1958-1979) were contacted. Along with their encouragement, the alumni sent many photographs and thoughts of their Camden days. These memories of yesteryear, along with those of today, were brought together to represent Camden's 25 years.

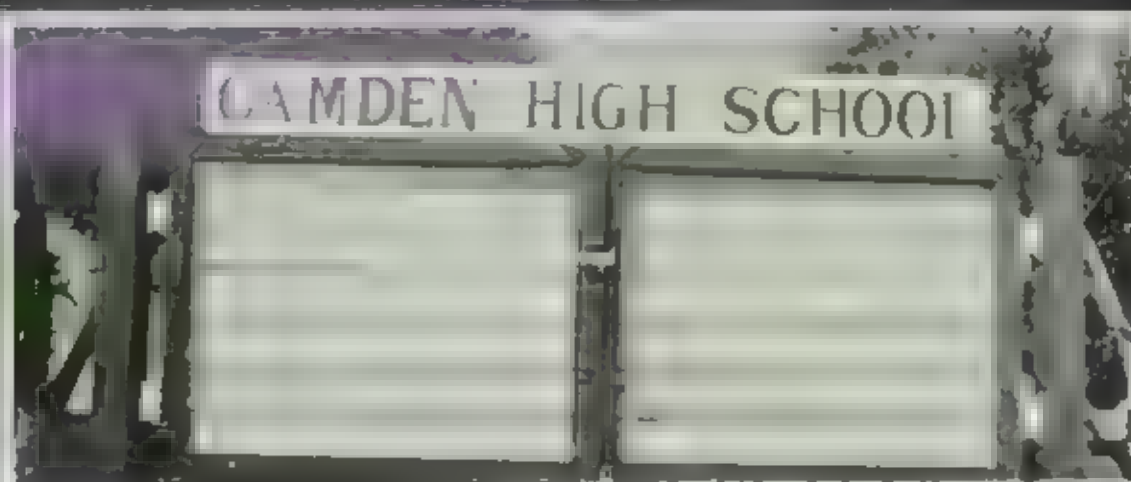

The thoughts and feelings of the many people Camden has touched have been captured through direct quotes, preserving the Cougar spirit.

The 1980 Memini is especially compiled for all of those who will always hold fond memories of Camden High School. We, the staff, hope that those special moments have been captured in Camden's concluding Memini.

Claine Ave

We hail you, Camden High School,
As a guide and as a friend,
We'll do our best to make you proud,
Your honor to defend.

As for you, you're always noble,
And your guidance ever true.
To your cause we'll all be loyal,
Camden High, we hail to you.

The 1980 Memini Staff would like to honor Miss Sharynn Mar for her dedication and patience in the production of numerous Meminis, including that of 1980. Without her, their production would have been possible, but their quality wouldn't have been 100% as high!

Thank you, Miss Mar, for your friendship, kindness, grease pencils, hours of heartbreak, and snickerdoodle! Special thanks also to Mrs. Hipton for her aid in the underclassmen and girls' sports sections.
